Miss Cora E. Wells and J. G. Carver are United in Marriage in St. Joseph.

FEW FRIENDS AT THE NUPTIALS.

Ceremony Performed at 8 O'clock This Morning at the Bride's Home in That City.

Miss Cora Edna Wells, daughter of A. W. Wells, was married this morning to J. Grant Carver, of Detroit, the wedding being soleminized at the home of the bride in St. Joseph.

The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. Bussard; a brother-inlaw of Mr. Carver, the bridal party occupying a position in the front parlor. The Presbyterian ring service was adopted and the pretty home wedding was witnessed by only a few of the in-In Benton Harbor timate friends of Mr. and Mrs. Carver, they being Mr. and Mrs. Grennel, of Grand Rapids, Mrs. F. H. Mill and Mrs. Rothert, of Indianapolis, Mrs. Bussard and Mr. and Mrs. John Hig-

Miss Wells and Mr. Carver were attended by Miss Clara Wells, sister of the bride, and Mr. Louis Wise, of Chicago. The bride was attired in a brown traveling suit. The home was redolent with the odor of flowers, the color effect being green and yellow in the front parlor, pink in the library, crimson in the back parlor and white and green in the dining room.

After the service a fashionable wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Carver left over the West Michigan road on the morning passenger train. They will remain in Grand Rapids several days and then go to Detroit, occupying a residence at 29 Parson street. Mr. Carver is state adjuster for the Liverpool, London & Globe insurance and received his diploma last Satur-company. Miss Wells occupied an exalted position in local society circles. Miss Mary Somers closed the spring She was identified with the various woman's clubs and is affable and intelligent. Her father, A. W. #### MAYOR BELL'S IDEA.

Does Not Favor Wooden Buildings in Fire Limits.

.The attitude of Mayor Bell in regard to the construction of wooden buildings was misapprehended by the common council and THE NEWS. The mayor does not favor the construction of wooden buildings in the fire limits but he does fayor a change in the ordinance so that the council may exercise judgment in the matter and not be bound by an iron clad law allowing nothing but stone and brick buildings in the fire limits.

The mayor believes that the city can trust the council in this matter, though the aldermen themselves were afraid to give themselves that much Trip to Milwaukee is Planned for latitude. The mayor says that there are a few buildings in the fire limits which the owners would cover with iron if the council were able to give them that permission.

Eyeless Animals.

Many of the lower animals are known to see without eyes, the skin having a high degree of sensitiveness to light. Thus earthworms, the maggets of flies and eyeless centipeds find their way about nearly as readily as similar creatures which have eyes. In a recent German work on the sensitiveness to light of eyeless animals. Dr. Nagel. who made his observations chiefly on mollusks, found that the eyeless bivalves and snails he experimented with showed a high degree of sensitiveness to light. He found that some species reacted especially to diminution, others to increase of light, and that this difference was correlated with other characters.— Philadelphia Press.

INDUCE MANY MEN TO QUIT WORK."

Police Called on, but Are of No Value to the Shop-Owners-Messenger Captured In One Case-Clothing Contractor Attacked by a Mob-Bloodshed Over a Strike in Illinois-Two Men Dead, One Being a Superintendent.

New York, June 9.—Not since the commencement of the strike, nearly four weeks ago, have the striking tailors exhibited such a boisterous disposition as that which marked their every move yesterday. Inspired with new ideas inculcated at Monday's night's meeting in Cooper Union, committees armed with authority from the Brotherhood of Tailors called on the non-union men employed in shops where proprietors have up to the present ignored the settlement committee. Contractor Rottenberg, in East Houston street, whom they first visited, protested against the interference of the committee and sent for the police. At the arrival of the latter twenty-five non-union men were induced to quit work and leave the building. A fight between Rottenberg and the "pickets" followed, which resulted in slight injury to the former and the arrest of three of the latter.

No Interruption to the March.

The committee then called on Contractor Tack in Attorney street and lessened his force by twenty-five. When going upstairs somebody shouted "fire," and the house was soon in an uproar. In obedience to the order of the union party twenty operators left their benches and went to the rendezvous of the striking tailors in Orchard street. The last place in this tour visited by the picket force was the shop of Contractor Samuel Lewis in Delancy street, where twenty-two hands quit work. A boy was sent for the police, but was held captive by the pickets until they thought fit to with-

Tried to Mob an Employer.

Meanwhile Louis Stubeck, proprietor of a sweat-shop in Willett street, was defending himself with a revolver at Broome and Pitt streets from the fury of a mob of 500 striking tailors. The sight of the weapon kept the mob at a distance until the intervention of a policeman, who escorted the frightened contractor to his home. The strikers in assigning a reason for the attempted onslaught on Subeck said that he never paid his operators. According to the strike bulletin issued early yesterday over 5,000 coat tailors and 1,200 children's jacket makers resumed work under conditions stipulated by the Brotherhood of Tailors.

MURDER DURING A STRIKE RIOT.

Assaulted Company Man Kills an Assailant and Is Beaten to Death.

Minonk, Ills., June 9.-John Vetoski, Jr., was killed yesterday morning about 6:30 by A. W. Morhan, superintendent of the Chicago and Minonk Coal and Tile works, who was escorting a colored miner to work, and was stopped by a mob of strikers. When Morhan pulled his pistol and fired a body of Polish strikers rushed upon him and beat him into insensibility. Besides being injured internally he had twenty-three wounds in the head and his hip bone was broken. died at 1:30 yesterday afternoon. As soon as it was known that he was dead all desire for revenge was over and things quieted down.

The jury in the inquest on Vetoski's body rendered a verdict just stating that he met his death by gunshot wound fired by A. W. Morhan, who was dead before a verdict had been reached. The inquest on Morhan's body will be today. Jue Erbland, a company man, also pulled a revolver, but it failed to go off, which doubtless saved his life, as the revolver was wrenched away from him and he was beaten over the head with it.

Brutal Outrage in Michigan.

Traverse City, Mich., June 9.-Trouble of several weeks' standing between Manager Ludgate, of the Traverse 'City Lumber company, and the Longshoremen's association culminated Monday. As Ludgate went down to the dock he was met by a large number of the longshoremen, thrown down, brutally assaulted, and badly hurt. The assault was caused by the refusal of Ludgate to allow the longshoremen to load lumber upon vessels chartered to carry it and insisting upon handling it with his men, shutting down his mill for that purpose.

General Strike of Plasterers.

Stevens, of this city, indicted on a charge of grand larceny for overdrawing his account with the Minnesota Savings bank while president of the institution, came up for trial yesterday. It had been decided in another case that the grand jury which returned this indictment was irregular in that one of the jurors was an allen, and when the Stevens' case came up it was developed that the petit jury also had been irregularly drawn.

However, Stevens insisted on an immediate trial, refusing to take advantage of any technicality, expressing the greatest confidence in being able to clear himself very quickly from the charge. Eight jurors were secured during the

IT WAS CHAIR AGAINST PISTOL.

Man with the Chair Is Dead and Judge Lynch Is Talking.

Junction City, Ark., June 9.-A bloody tragedy was enacted here yesterday in a justice court room in which one man was murdered, and which may result in the lynching of the murderer. The murdered man was W. S. Coffee, of Eldorado, and the murdefer is J. J. Sheppard, of the same place. Both men were lawyers. Coffee and Sheppard were oposing counsel in a trial before Justice Wright.

During the progress of the case the attorneys became involved in a dispute and abused each other, shocking profanity being used. Coffee picked up a chair and Sheppard drew a pistol and fired four shots in rapid succession into Coffee's body, killing him almost instantly. Sheppard is in the city jail under a heavy guard to prevent lynching.

Tax on Iron Hall Funds.

Indianapolis, June 9. — The supreme court yesterday reversed the decision of the lower court in which an injunction was granted forbidding the county auditor and treasurer from collecting taxes against $522,847 Iron Hall funds which Receiver Failey held on deposit in the banks in this city. The appellants contended that the taxes should be assessed against the 45,000 members of the order, scattered over the country. The decision holds that as the property is in the hands of the receiver in this state it comes within the jurisdiction of the state. The taxes amount to $8,626.96.

Was My Little Cirl's Trouble - Abscess on One of Her Limbs Hood's Sarsaparilla Healed the Wound and Built Up Her System.

"Years ago my little girl fell and dislocated her hip. Doctors set the bone, but it worked out again and an abscess came on one of her limbs. The doctor said it was caused by dead bone, and he took out four inches of bone. He came to see her every day and washed the wound, but it would not heal. Finally the doctor gave up coming. Then I gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla and it proved to be worth its weight in gold. It built up her system, healed the wound and she is now able to walk. She has gained 15 pounds in weight since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. SYLVIA RICHARDS, Rogers, Michigan.

Every Citizen Should Attend the Meeting at the City Hall This Evening.

FACTORY AT STAKE.

Most Favorable Proposition Ever Presented for Starting Up the Works.

The meeting at the city hall this evening to discuss the proposition to start the wheels of the Buss factory in motion ought to be attended by every business man and every person who desires the restoration of confidence in Benton Harbor, and the actual appearance of the long promised wave of pros-

Last night until midnight several of the leading business men of the city were in consultation, such men as Mayor Bell, J. J. Miller C. M. Edick and others and all agreed that the proposition to open the Buss factory with the King gas engine was the best proposition this city had ever received. If a stock company cannot be organized to take hold of this matter it is the idea of these gentlemen that no other proposition need be discussed.

If every citizen attends this meeting and every one does his share the Buss factory will open and this city will again feel the benefits of prosperity.

To the tune off the "Sidewalks of "New York" an Eau Claire poet has written the following:

The city dads in council said our streets are all They shame the face and quite disgrace the people of our town.

We'll getto wo, k and and fix them up tho some *hould dick and swear.

We'll make them neat and quite complete the sidewalks of Eau Claire.

North side, south side, all around the town. The north side is going up, the south side coming down.

Ready! Stendy now! Hinder us who dare! With much celight we'll fix just right the side walks of Eau Chire.

The city fathers set to work in face of kick and

They said the work is very good in which all hands shall hare.

It's not too late to make them straight the sidewalks of Ean Claire.

Isaying made a thing complete the work would all be done: But raise your eyes in mute surprise the work is scarce begun,

We gaze along the mud banked walks with

MENTAL EFFECTS.

A Healing Test for the Mind.

There are a number of commendable things taught by so called healers. For instance, "Mind is the real being, the real man, which moves the arms, legs,

A peculiar compound of earth and water. delicately and deftly arranged to be sure, but simple earth and water, nevertheless, without any force, intelligence or motion in it. except as it is acted upon by the living mind. There seems to be two minds to each body, or two selves, one which runs the so called automatic members. stomach, heart, bowels, &c., &c., and the other which conducts the movements of the outer members, arms, &c. It is a curious psychological fact that

Yes, undoubtedly she did. Again there flitted across her lips that half smile so familiar to him. Certainly she knew him.

"What size?" she asked.

He made an awkward gesture of ignorance. She unrolled her tape measure and placed it in a businesslike manner around Maurier's neck. For a second, as she stood before him, their faces were so near together that he could have kissed her.

"Fifteen," she said, opening some collar boxes for him to choose from. He picked out four boxes; then, still unwilling to go, asked to see some umbrellas, after which he bought a muftler and some handkerchiefs. #### Dominos In a Lion's Cage.

A game of dominos in a lion's cage was the novelty recently offered to the bewildered gaze of the visitors to a menagerie. The players were the "tamer" and a worthy citizen who, on the strength of a bet, had entered the habitation of the king of beasts. Seated quietly at a table which had been brought in for the purpose, the pair got on very well for a time, the lion watching their movements apparently with Louisville. For rates, routes, and full intelligent attention. He seemed, how- information call on any representative ever, to arrive at the conclusion that of the Big Four route. the game was a poor business, after all, for instead of allowing the two men to finish it in peace he suddenly made a dash at the table and sent it spinning onlookers, who feared that a shocking catastrophe was impending.

The amateur, however, was not slow in taking the hint. On the contrary, he lost not a moment in bolting out of the cage, and the relief was general when he succeeded in putting the bars between himself and the demolisher of the table. The lion appeared to be a very magnanimous creature, for during the next performance he allowed a friend of the fugitive domino player to pay him a visit and actually condescended to accept from him a piece of meat presented as a propitiatory offering. As, after doing justice to the morsel, he began to regard the intruder with wistful eyes, and by other signs and tokens to munifest au inclination to make a closer acquaintance with him, the tamer promptly intervened and another strategic movement to the rear was executed, fortunately with success. - Paris Letter in Chicago Chronicle.

The Youthful Kaiser and Mr. Frith.

Although Professor Knackfuss is usnally credited with assisting the kaiser in the production of his surprising pictures, the German monarch owes his earliest introduction to the mysteries of art to an English painter. The first time the kaiser handled a brush was at Windsor, when Mr. Frith was painting the picture of the Prince of Wales' marriage for the queen. All the royal personages gave sittings to the artist, and the kaiser, then a little 4-year-old prince, spent several mornings in the room where the picture was being painted. To keep the child quiet, Mr. Frith gave him some paints and brushes and allowed him to dabble on one of the unfinished corners of the canvas. As the natural result of this very injudicious proceeding the prince's face was in a very few minutes covered with streaks of green, blue and vermilion. The sight of his smeared face terrified his governess, who begged the artist to remove the colors, and Mr. Frith, armed with rags and turpentine, had nearly completed his task when the pungent spirit found its way into a scratch upon the child's cheek. The future kniser screamed with pain, assaulted the eminent painter with his fiets, and hid himself under a large table, where he yelled until he was tired. Mr. Frith declares in his "Reminiscences" that the Privacely steam little prince aboved a most unforgiving at a second Caucus Agrees to a Change That Is Declared Satisfactory.

Washington, June 9.—By the decisive vote of 42 to 19 the senate yesterday adopted an amendment to the tariff bill placing raw cotton, the great product of the south, on the dutiable list at 20 per cent. ad valorem. It is the first time in the history of tariff legislation that a duty on cotton has been incorporated in a bill. The amendment was proposed by Bacon of Georgia on his individual responsibility, and without the approval of the finance committee, which thus far has been requisite to the success of every amendment except a minor one which went through by default. The amendment led to a spirited debate. Democratic senators disclosing a wide difference of views and at times exchanging sharp personal criticisms.

Kyle Votes with the Democrats. On the final vote six Democrats-Bacon and Clay of Georgia, McEnery of Louisiana, McLaurin and Tillman of South Carolina and Rawlins of Utahvoted with the Republicans for the Bacon amendment, while the negative vote was solidly Democratic with one exception-Kyle. Populist. The debate on cotton took up the most of the day. and but little progress was made on the bill. Early in the day the sugar schedule was passed over and the agricultural schedule taken up. The paragraph on cattle went over, but the balance of the agricultural schedule up to and including paragraph 228 was agreed to as reported, all amendments except that of Bacon being rejected. Vest Begins to Get Lonesome.

Vest turned his attention to general features of the tariff debate, reverting to the course of some of his Democratic associates in supporting revenue tariff rates. There was a time once when he. too, was ignorant enough and foolish enough to support the idea of revenue duties with incidental protection. But he was soon disabused of that idea, as he had found that it turned the congress of the United States into a convention like that of monkeys, who, while pursuing their deliberations were suddenly thrown into a wild scramble when nuts were thrown into a cage. On each of the votes on amendments to the agricultural schedule some Democrats voted with the Reupblicans, which lead Vest to remark: "The vote on this side of the chamber seems to be getting smaller and smaller."

"Lonesome and right," added Bates. Bacon Wants Cotton Protected.

And then came the proposal for a duty on cotton. Bacon of Georgia offered an individual amendment to be known as paragraph 22512, placing a duty of 20 her cent. ad valorem on raw cotton. Bacon said the omission of this article from the dutiable list was a violation of the principle of the Democratic platform that tariff taxation shall be so imposed as to discriminate against no section. Southern Democratic senators immediately began to worry the Georgia protectionist (on cotton) and he became impatient at one point over frequent interruptions, the last one coming from Caffery. "I think the senator has enough to do to answer the questions addressed to him yesterday by the senator from Massachusetts as to sugar." answered Bacon sharply.

Vest Takes Issue with Bacon.

Vest said the amendment would receive Republican support because it was calculated to cause dissension in the Democratic party. He claimed that the addition of the 20 per cent. provided would simply add that amount to the finished product. He took issue with Bacon on the contention that theamendment was in line with the platform adopted at Chicago. "If," he said, "I had thought the platform meant what the genator from Georgia says it does I would not have touched it any more than I would have touched a rattlesnake knowing there was no whisky within a hundred miles. God help us if the new evangel is to prevail." The debate ran along for some time, and the free trade men made a hard fight against the amendment, but on a vote being reached it was agreed to as stated above.

SENATE CAUCUS PROCEEDINGS.

First Binds All to Its Action and Then Changes the Sugar Schedule.

Washington, June 9.-The Republican caucus yesterday was well attended, nearly every Republican senator in the city, being present. Great interest was manifested in the caucus because it was known that an effort was to be made to secure a new sugar schedule, and one which all ment would be reached where differences of opinion existed. Almost the entire time of the caucus was devoted to consideration of the sugar schedule; other features where there are differences were not reached. No agreement was reached in regard to the Hawaiian treaty, and the committee is expected to report some amendments or a provision which will not leave the matter in any uncertain condition or absolutely abrogate the existing reciprocity provisions of the treaty.

was the detrmination reached to vote together as a party, which insures favorable action on all contested schedules and the passage of the bill as approved by the majority. This determination was reached upon a suggestion made by Thurston. This suggestion led to the most interesting incident of the caucus. There had been several references to the meeting as a "conference." Thurston objected to this designation, saying that conferences never bound any one, and that he wanted it definitely understood whether this meeting was to be binding or a friendly chat without further results; for if it was not to bind all make all schedules he would not arrest to 11 the by the decision apon the angar and 2.

greation in the snape of a motion to the effect that the agreement of the caucus should be binding upon all Republican senators, and it carried by a large ma-

The main propositions on the sugar schedule were those fixing the rate on refined sugar. There were three of these propositions. The one adopted, fixing the rate at 1.95 of a cent per pound in place of 1.875 as fixed by the house bill, was suggested by Spooner. Perkins suggested 1 3-16, and Wellington the rate of the house bill. The last amendments were voted down viva voce and the Spooner amendment accepted by an almost unanimous vote. There was no especial effort to retain the amendment originally offered by the senate finance committee, and no proposition was made to that effect by any one. Allison and Aldrich expressed the opinion that the schedule as prepared by their committee was equitable and that its provisions were misunderstood.

WAS JOURNALISTIC ENTERPRISE. New York Paper Gets Lee's Report Before

it Reaches the President. Washington, June 9.-W. J. Calhoun, the special counsel in the Ruiz case, arrived here yesterday and at once went to the state department. He said that his plans were unmatured, and that he did not know whether he would go to Nashville. When asked concerning the publication of what purports to be Consul General Lee's report on the Ruiz case he said that he had not compared the publication with the report, but that the newspaper publication looked very much like an accurate copy of General Lee's report. Assistant Secretary Day said that the report of Consul Genearl Lee upon the results of the investigation made in Havana in the Ruiz case had not yet been received at the state department. Consequently it was not possible to learn whether the publications purporting to be copies of the report were accurate. Assuming, however, that the consul general's conclusions are correctly set forth-in brief that Ruiz died while in jail in violation of his treaty rights-the question before the department is as to what shall be the next step. The wife of Ruiz has filed with the department a claim for $150,000 for the death of her husband. The Spanish contention has been that he was not killed and that he was not treated harshly. General Lee's inquiry is understood to have failed to bring out the truth on these points, but his statement on another, that of his confinement in violation of treaty rights. appears to make the first two points nonessential, and to leave the case resting on the broad claim that in confining Dr. Ruiz for more than seventy-two hours without permitting him to communicate with his friends or trying him, the Spanish officials in Cuba have assumed full responsibility for the results of that extra confinement.

The fact being established that Dr. Ruiz kept up his citizenship by registering himself at American consulates in Cuba from time to time as required by regulations, is taken as an offset against the claim that by continuous residence in Cuba for nearly twenty years he had forfeited his rights as an American citizen. So it is surmised that the next step in the case will be the presentation of a claim against the Spanish government in behalf of the family of the victim of this illegal imprisonment.

Confirmed by the Senate.

Washington, June 9.—The senate yesterday confirmed the following nominations: Ellis H. Roberts, of New York, to be treasurer of the United States: Conrad N. The customary mode of roasting sucking pigs in the island is by thrusting a bamboo through the pig and then fastening it to an iron and roasting it over a slow fire. This was done to the monks, the bamboo being thrust through them while they were alive.

Thug Work in Michigan.

Niles, Mich., June 9.—Edward Anneck, a wealthy farmer of this county, residing near Sodus, was terribly assaulted by two unknown highwaymen near Indian lake. He was returning home from the lake when he was attacked. He was terribly battered and his face disfigured. His body was dragged into an adjoining wood, where it was found late next day. A small sum of money and his gold watch were taken. He has not yet recovered consciousness and his wounds will probably be fatal.

Miss Cora E. Wells and J. G. Carver are United in Marriage in St. Joseph.

FEW FRIENDS AT THE NUPTIALS

Ceremony Performed at 8 O'clock This Morning at the Bride's Home in That City.

Miss Cora Edua Wells, daughter of A. W. Wells, was married this morning to J. Grant Carver, of Detroit, the wedding being soleminized at the home of the bride in St. Joseph.

The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. Bussard, a brother-inlaw of Mr. Carver, the bridal party occupying a position in the front parlor. The Presbyterian ring service was they being Mr. and Mrs. Grennel, of Grand Rapids, Mrs. F. H. Mill and Bussard and Mr. and Mrs. John Hig- ket. man, Jr.

Miss Wells and Mr. Carver were attended by Miss Clara Wells, sister of the bride, and Mr. Louis Wise, of Chicago. The bride was attired in a brown traveling suit. The home was redolent with the odor of flowers, the color effect being green and yellow in the front parlor, pink in the library. crimson in the back parlor and white and green in the dining room.

After the service a fashionable wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Carver left over the West Michigan road on the morning passenger train. They will remain in Grand Rapids several days and then go to Detroit, occupying a residence at 29 Par-

Mr. Carver is state adjuster for the company. Miss Wells occupied an exalted position in local society circles. She was identified with the various woman's clubs and is affable and intelligent. Her father, A. W. Wells, is a member of the firms of Wells, Higman & Co., fruit package manufacturers, and Cooper, Wells & Co., manufacturers of knit goods.

The attitude of Mayor Bell in regard to the construction of wooden geles Times. buildings was misapprehended by the common council and THE NEWS. The mayor does not favor the construction of wooden buildings in the fire limits but he does fayor a change in the ordinance so that the council may exercise judgment in the matter and not be bound by an iron clad law allowing nothing but stone and brick buildings in the fire limits.

The mayor believes that the city can trust the council in this matter, though the aldermen themselves were afraid to give themselves that much latitude. The mayor says that there are a few buildings in the fire limits which the owners would cover with iron if the council were able to give them that permission.

Eyeless Animals. Many of the lower animals are known to see without eyes, the skin having a high degree of sensitiveness to light. Thus earthworms, the maggets of flies and eyeless centipeds find their way about nearly as readily as similar creatures which have eyes. In a recent German work on the sensitiveness to light of eyeless animals, Dr. Nagel, who made his observations chiefly on mollusks, found that the eyeless bivalves and snails he experimented with showed a high degree of sensitiveness to light. He found that some species reacted especially to diminution, others to increase of light, and that this difference was correlated with other characters. -Philadelphia Press.

INDUCE MANY MEN TO OUT WORK.

Police Called on, but Are of No Value to the Shop-Owners-Messenger Captured in One Case-Clothing Contractor Attacked by a Mob-Bloodshed Over a Strike in Illiuois-Two Men Dead, One Being a Superintendent.

New York, June 9.-Not since the commencement of the strike, nearly four weeks ago, have the striking tailors exhibited such a boisterous disposition as that which marked their every move yesterday. Inspired with new ideas inculcated at Monday's night's meeting in Cooper Union, committees armed with authority from the Brotherhood of Tailors called on the non-union men employed in shops where proprietors have up to the present ignored the settlement committee. Contractor Rottenberg, in East Houston street, whom they first visited, protested against the interference of the committee and sent for the police. At the arrival of the latter twenty-five non-union men were induced to quit work and leave the building. A fight between Rottenberg and the "pickets" followed, which resulted in slight injury to the former and the arrest of three of the latter. No Interruption to the March.

The committee then called on Contractor Tack in Attorney street and lessened his force by twenty-five. When going upstairs somebody shouted "fire," and the house was soon in an uproar. In obedience to the order of the union party twenty operators left their benches and went to the rendezvous of the striking tailors in Orchard street. The last place in this tour visited by the picket force was the shop of Contractor Samuel Lewis in Delancy street, where twenty-two hands quit work. A boy was sent for the police, but was held captive by the pickets until they thought fit to with-

Tried to Mob an Employer.

Meanwhile Louis Stubeck, proprietor of a sweat-shop in Willett street, was defending himself with a revolver at Broome and Pitt streets from the fury of a mob of 500 striking tailors. The sight of the weapon kept the mob at a distance until the intervention of a policeman, who escorted the frightened contractor to his home. The strikers in assigning a reason for the attempted onslaught on Subeck said that he never paid his operators. According to the strike bulletin issued early yesterday over 5,000 coat tailors and 1,200 children's jacket makers resumed work under conditions stipulated by the Brotherhood of Tailors.

MURDER DURING A STRIKE RIOT.

Assaulted Company Man Kills an Assailant and Is Beaten to Death.

Minonk, Ills., June 9.-John Vetoski, Jr., was killed yesterday morning about 6:30 by A. W. Morhan, superintendent of the Chicago and Minonk Coal and Tile works, who was escorting a colored miner to work, and was stopped by a mob of strikers. When Morhan pulled his pistol and fired a body of Polish strikers rushed upon him and beat him internally he had twenty-three wounds in the head and his hip bone was broken. He never regained consciousness and died at 1:30 yesterday afternoon. As soon as it was known that he was dead all desire for revenge was over and things quieted down.

The jury in the inquest on Vetoski's body rendered a verdict just stating that he met his death by gunshot wound fired by A. W. Morhan, who was dead before a verdict had been reached. The inquest on Morhan's body will be today. Joe Erbland, a company man, also pulled a revolver, but it failed to go off, which doubtless saved his life, as the revolver was wrenched away from him and he was beaten over the head with it.

Brutal Outrage in Michigan.

Traverse City, Mich., June 9.-Trouble of several weeks' standing between Manager Ludgate, of the Traverse City Lumber company, and the Longshoremen's association culminated Monday. As Ludgate went down to the dock he was met by a large number of the longshoremen, thrown down, brutally assaulted, and badly hurt. The assault was caused by the refusal of Ludgate to allow the longshoremen to load lumber upon vessels chartered to carry it and insisting upon handling it with his men, shutting down his mill for that purpose. .

General Strike of Plasterers.

Iowa Grand Army Encampment.

Marshalltown, Ia., June 9.—The twenty-third annual state encampment, Iowa department Grand Army of the Republic, and allied orders, opened here yesterday morning in a drizzling rain. The skies cleared towards noon, however, and the weather was propitious during the afternoon. All the incoming trains were crowded and by 10 o'clock fully 5,000 strangers had arrived. The city is lavishly decorated. The forenoon was occupied by the departments of the various organizations with receptions, comittee conferences, etc., and the afternoon was devoted to visiting the State Soldiers' Home, hospitals and grounds. Numerous camp fires occurred last night.

IT WAS CHAIR AGAINST PISTOL.

Man with the Chair Is Dead and Judge Lynch Is Talking.

Junction City, Ark., June 9.-A bloody tragedy was enacted here yesterday in a justice court room in which one man was murdered, and which may result in the lynching of the murderer. The murdered man was W. S. Coffee, of Eldorado, and the murderer is J. J. Sheppard, of the same place. Both men were lawyers. Coffee and Sheppard were oposing counsel in a trial before Justice

During the progress of the case the attorneys became involved in a dispute and abused each other, shocking profanity being used. Coffee picked up a chair and Sheppard drew a pistol-and fired four shots in rapid succession into Coffee's body, killing him almost instantly. Sheppard is in the city jail under a heavy guard to prevent lynching.

Tax on Iron Hall Funds.

Indianapolis, June 9. - The supreme court yesterday reversed the decision of the lower court in which an injunction was granted forbidding the county auditor and treasurer from collecting taxes against $522,847 Iron Hall funds which Receiver Failey held on deposit in the banks in this city. The appellants contended that the taxes should be assessed against the 45,000 members of the order, scattered over the country. The decision holds that as the property is in the hands of the receiver in this state to see you. it comes within the jurisdiction of the state. The taxes amount to $8,626.96,

Was My Little Girl's Trouble - Absoess on One of Her Limbs 'Hood's Sarsaparilla Healed the Wound and Built Up Her System.

"Years ago my little girl fell and dislocated her hip. Doctors set the bone, but it worked out again and an abscess came on one of her timbs. The doctor said it was caused by dead bone, and he took out four inches of bone. He came to see her every day and washed the wound, but it would not heal. Finally the doctor gave up coming. Then I gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla and it proved to be worth its weight in gold. It built up her system, healed the wound and she is now able to walk. She has gained 15 pounds in weight since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. SYLVIA RICHARDS, Rogers, Michigan.

MEANS MUCH TO CITY.

Every Citizen Should Attend the Meeting at the City Hall This Evening.

BUSS FACTORY AT STAKE.

Most Favorable Proposition Ever Presented for Starting Up the Works.

The meeting at the city hall this evening to discuss the proposition to start the wheels of the Buss factory in motion ought to be attended by every business man and every person who desires the restoration of confidence in Benton Harbor, and the actual appearance of the long promised wave of prosperity.

Last night until midnight several of the leading business men of the city were in consultation, such men as Mayor Bell, J. J. Miller C. M. Edick and others and all agreed that the proposition to open the Buss factory with the King gas engine was the best proposition this city had ever received. If a stock company cannot be organized to take hold of this matter it is the idea of these gentlemen that no other proposition need be discussed.

If every citizen attends this meeting and every one does his share the Buss factory will open and this city will again feel the benefits of prosperity.

RESOLUTION APPROVED.

Grand Rapids Paper Endorse the Michigan W.C. T. U.

Grand Rapids Press: The resolutions adopted by the state W. C. T. U. condemning the rioting by the members of the legislature during the closing hours of the session are none too strong, and but faintly describe the disgraceful scenes which were enacted. One member who was sitting in his seat quietly waiting the adjournment had his teeth knocked down his throat by flying missiles, and the fine painting of Lafayette for which the state paid a thousand dollars was ruined. It is a great pity that the member whose teeth were broken did not institute proceedings against the rowdy who was responsible for it, and the state should have compelled the members who ruined its pro-perty to pay for it. There have been worse legislatures than this one, but none so disgraced itself at the last moment.

MENTAL EFFECTS.

A Healing Test for the Mind.

There are a number of commendable to his parents again. things taught by so called healers. For instance, "Mind is the real being, the real man, which moves the arms, legs, &c., as machines which do its will. Body is made up entirely of what comes from the ground and air. A peculiar compound of earth and water, delicately and deftly arranged to be sure, but simple earth and water, nevertheless, without any force, intelligence or motion in it, except as it is acted upon by the living mind.

There seems to be two minds to each body, or two selves, one which runs the so called automatic members. stomach, heart, bowels, &c., &c., and the other which conducts the movements of the outer members, arms, &c.

It is a curious psychological fact that when one is slightly ailing, a new line of thought will quickly affect the body favorably and particularly if that mental trend run somewhat as tollows; "I am not body.

"My real self is unseen and is Mind or Spirit which is the same as Life. Body being dead material cannot complain to me except as I sensitize it and permit the complaints." If a person can bring himself to thoroughly believe this without a shadow of doubt, a most curious and healing effect is quickly felt in the body.

Many people have not a well enough trained mind to command just what it shall or shall not do, but where the mind is well in hand, so to speak, the result of such mental exercise is marked and cannot be forgotten.

We write the above knowing that it will reach the eye of some honest searcher after some of the new laws which are lately coming to be known of man, and to say that while on the subject of hea thful living, it should not be forgotten that good nourishing food and drink are necessary and the unnatural habit are better left off than clung to. If the reader has trouble with coffee and has never used the food-drink, Postum Cereal, it will well repay the trial.

There is but one genuine original Postum Cereal coffee, with a multitude of imitations offered as "just as good."

And believing that he saw hoveling about the corners of her lips an indefinable smile—a smile which he well knew —he said to himself, "She is paying me back, that's certain." So he, too, began to smile, a foolish, fatnous grin, which was promptly extinguished as he realized that she was not looking at him, but seemed to be absently waiting antil he should make his choice of a cravat. Finally he said desperately:

"I will take this, and this, and that." "Is there nothing else? Monsieur wished to see collars.

He nodded. Why did he not speak? He was alone with her, the clerk at the midday meal, the husband absent, and he could not say the words which were etrangling him:

"Camille, it is I. Don't you remember me?"

Yes, undoubtedly she did. Again there flitted across her lips that half smile so familiar to him. Certainly she knew him.

"What size?" she asked.

He made an awkward gesture of ignorance. She unrolled her tape measure and placed it in a businesslike manner around Maurier's neck. For a second, as she stood before him, their faces were so near together that he could have kissed her.

"Fifteen," she said, opening some collar boxes for him to choose from. He picked out four boxes; then, still unwilling to go, asked to see some umbrellas, after which he bought a muffler and some handkerchiefs. Camille had not once flushed, paled or otherwise betrayed herself. Nevertheless, that she recognized him he would have been willing to wager his right hand.

"Is there anything else?" she asked again.

"That is all."

While paying for the articles an idea suddenly occurred to him.

"Might not these purchases be sent to me?" he said.

"Certainly, monsieur. What address?"

He looked at her scrutinizingly while she composedly wrote in a large book. Then he said very distinctly, "Robert Maurier, M. D., 15 Rue Cujas,"

"Cujas," she repeated tranquilly. For a second he had the foolish hope that she would herself bring the packages, but he was speedily undeceived. "The boy will deliver the order tonight or tomorrow morning."

"I shall count upon receiving them promptly," said he, "for I am quitting

She replied, with mechanical politeness, "Oh, they shall be sent in time!" "Good day, monsieur."-Parisian.

Dominos In a Lion's Cage.

A game of dominos in a lion's cage was the novelty recently offered to the bewildered gaze of the visitors to a menagerie. The players were the 'tamer'' and a worthy citizen who, on the strength of a bet, had entered the habitation of the king of beasts. Seated quietly at a table which had been brought in for the purpose, the pair got on very well for a time, the lion watching their movements apparently with intelligent attention. He seemed, however, to arrive at the conclusion that the game was a poor business, after all, for instead of allowing the two men to finish it in peace he suddenly made a dash at the table and sent it spinning with the dominos in wild confusion into the air, much to the horror of the onlookers, who feared that a shocking catastrophe was impending.

The amateur, however, was not slow in taking the hint. On the contrary, he lost not a moment in bolting out of the cage, and the relief was general when he succeeded in putting the bars between himself and the demolisher of the table. The lion appeared to be a very magnanimous creature, for during the produce de riz, and her silky hair performance he allowed a friend of the fugitive domino player to pay him a visit and actually condescended to accept from him a piece of meat presented as a propitiatory offering. As, after doing justice to the morsel, he began to regard the intruder with wistful eyes, and by other signs and tokens to manifest an inclination to make a closer acquaintance with him, the tamer promptly intervened and another strategic movement to the rear was executed, fortunately with success.—Paris Letter

The Youthful Kaiser and Mr. Frith. Although Professor Knackfuss is usually credited with assisting the kaiser in the production of his surprising pictures, the German monarch owes his earliest introduction to the mysteries of art to an English painter. The first time the kaiser handled a brush was at Windsor, when Mr. Frith was painting the picture of the Prince of Wales' marriage for the queen. All the royal perrgeous cravats. Although not sonages gave sittings to the artist, and the kaiser, then a little 4-year-old prince, spent several mornings in the room where the picture was being painted. To keep the child quiet, Mr. Frith gave him some paints and brushes and allowed him to dabble on one of the unfinished corners of the canvas.

As the natural result of this very injudicious proceeding the prince's face was in a very few minutes covered with streaks of green, blue and vermilion. The sight of his smeared face terrified remove the colors, and Mr. Frith, armed with rags and turpentine, had nearly completed his task when the pungent spirit found its way into a scratch upon the child's cheek. The future kniger screamed with pain, assaulted the emi- 8: nent painter with his fists, and hid himself under a large table, where he yelled until he was tired, Mr. Frith declares in his "Reminiscences" that the little prince showed a most unforgiving spirit and revenged himself sitted to be still the still Washington, June 9.—By the decisive its of 42 to 19 the senate yesterday scopted an amendment to the tariff bill placing raw cotton, the great product of the south, on the dutiable list at 20 per cent. ad valorem. It is the first time in the history of tariff legislation that a duty on cotton has been incorporated in a bill. The amendment was proposed by Bacon of Georgia on his individual responsibility, and without the approval of the finance committee, Which thus far has been requisite to the success of every amendment except a minor one which went through by default. The amendment led to a spirited debate, Democratic senators disclosing wide difference of views and at times exchanging sharp personal criticisms.

Kyle Votes with the Democrats. On the final vote six Damocrats-Bacon and Clay of Georgia, McEnery of Louisiana. McLaurin and Tiliman of South Carolina and Rawlins of Utahvoted with the Republicans for the Bacon amendment, while the negative vote was solidly Democratic with one exception-Kyle, Populist. The debate on cotton took up the most of the day, and but little progress was made on the bill. Early in the day the sugar schedule was passed overand theagricultural schedule taken up. The paragraph on cattle went over, but the balance of the agricultural schedule up to and including paragraph 228 was agreed to as reported, all amendments except that of Bacon being rejected.

Vest Begins to Get Lonesome.

Vest turned his attention to general features of the tariff debate, reverting to the course of some of his Democratic associates in supporting revenue tariff rates. There was a time once when he, too, was ignorant enough and foolish enough to support the idea of revenue duties with incidental protection. But he was soon disabused of that idea, as fre had found that it turned the congress of the United States into a convention like that of monkeys, who, while pursuing their deliberations were suddenly thrown into a wild scramble when nuts were thrown into a cage. On each of the votes on amendments to the agricultural schedule some Democrats voted with the Reupblicans, which lead Vest to remark: "The vote on this side of the chamber seems to be getting smaller and smaller."

"Lonesome and right," added Bates, Bacon Wants Cotton Protected.

And then came the proposal for a duty on cotton. Bacon of Georgia offered an Individual amendment to be known as paragraph 22512, placing a duty of 20 per cent. ad valorem on raw cotton. Bacon said the omission of this article from the dutiable list was a violation of the principle of the Democratic platform that tariff taxation shall be so imposed as to discriminate against no section. Southern Democratic senators immediately began to worry the Georgia protectionist (on cotton) and he became impatient at one point over frequent interruptions, the last one coming from Caffery. "I think the senator has enough to do to answer the questions diressed to him yesterday by the senar from Massachusetts as to sugar." aswered Bacon sharply.

Vest Takes Issue with Bacon.

Vest said the amendment would receive Republican support because it was calculated to cause dissension in the Democratic party. He claimed that the addition of the 20 per cent, provided would simply add that amount to the finished product. He took issue with Bacon on the contention that the amendment was in line with the platform adopted at Chicago. "If," he said, "I had thought the platform meant what the senator from Georgia says it does I would not have touched it any more than I would have touched a rattlesnak. khowing there was no whisky within a hundred miles. God help us if the new evangel is to prevail." The debate ran along for some time, and the free trade men made a hard fight against the amendment, but on a vote being reached It was agreed to as stated above.

SENATE CAUCUS PROCEEDINGS.

First Binds All to Its Action and Then Changes the Sugar Schedule.

Washington, June 9.-The Republican caucus yesterday was well attended, nearly every Republican senator in the city, being present. Great interest was manifested in the caucus because it was known that an effort was to be made to secure a new sugar schedule, and one which all Republican senators could support. Aldrich was present, and after the caucus adjourned said it was very successful and that he felt that the Republicans were going to stand together on all schedules of the bill and that an agreement would be reached where differences of opinion existed. Almost the entire time of the caucus was devoted to consideration of the sugar schedule; other features where there are differences were not reached. No agreement was reached in regard to the Hawaiian treaty, and the committee is expected to report some amendments or a provision which will not leave the matter in any uncertain condition or absolutely abrogate the existing reciprocity provisions of the treaty.

An important feature of the caucus was the detrmination reached to vote together as a party, which insures faworable action on all contested schedmies and the passage of the bill as approved by the majority. This determination was reached upon a suggestion made by Thurston. This suggestion led to the most interesting incident of the caucus. There had been several references to the meeting as a "conference." Thurston objected to this designation. mying that conferences never bound any one, and that he wanted it definite-In understood whether this meeting was to be binding or a friendly chat witht further results; for if it was not to id all senators on all schedules he rould not agree to abide by the decision early, and out to verify Name that a perfect understanding was reached. Thurston then but his suggestion in the shape of a motion to the effect that the agreement of the caucus should be binding upon all Republican senators, and it carried by a large ma-

The main propositions on the sugar schedule were those fixing the rate on refined sugar. There were three of these propositions. The one adopted, fixing the rate at 1.95 of a cent per pound in place of 1.875 as fixed by the house bill, was suggested by Spooner. Perkins suggested 1 3-16, and Wellington the rate of the house bill. The last amendments were voted down viva voce and the Spooner amendment accepted by an almost unanimous vote. There was no especial effort to retain the amendment originally offered by the senate finance committee, and no proposition was made to that effect by any one. Allison and Aldrich expressed the opinion that the schedule as prepared by their committee was equitable and that its provisions were misunderstood.

WAS JOURNALISTIC ENTERPRISE.

New York Paper Gets Lee's Report Before it Reaches the President.

Washington, June 9.-W. J. Calhoun, the special counsel in the Ruiz case, arrived here yesterday and at once went to the state department. He said that his plans were unmatured, and that he did not know whether he would go to Nashville. When asked concerning the publication of what purports to be Consul General Lee's report on the Rulz case he said that he had not compared the publication with the report, but that the newspaper publication looked very much like an accurate copy of General Lee's report. Assistant Secretary Day said that the report of Consul Genearl Lee upon the results of the investigation made in Havana in the Ruiz case had not yet been received at the state department. Consequently it was not possible to learn whether the publications purporting to be copies of the report were accurate.

Assuming, however, that the consul general's conclusions are correctly set forth-in brief that Ruiz died while in fail in violation of his treaty rights-the question before the department is as to what shall be the next step. The wife of Ruiz has filed with the department a claim for $150,000 for the death of her husband. The Spanish contention has been that he was not killed and that he was not treated harshly. General Lee's inquiry is understood to have failed to bring out the truth on these points, but his statement on another, that of his confinement in violation of treaty rights. appears to make the first two points nonessential, and to leave the case resting on the broad claim that in confining Dr. Ruiz for more than seventy-two hours without permitting him to communicate with his friends or trying him, the Spanish officials in Cuba have assumed full responsibility for the results of that extra confinement.

The fact being established that Dr. Ruiz kept up his citizenship by registering himself at American consulates in Cuba from time to time as required by regulations, is taken as an offset against the claim that by continuous residence in Cuba for nearly twenty years he had forfeited his rights as an American citizen. So it is surmised that the next step in the case will be the presentation of a claim against the Spanish government in behalf of the family of the victim of this illegal imprisonment.

Confirmed by the Senate.

Washington, June 9.-The senate yesterday confirmed the following nominations: Ellis H. Roberts, of New York. to be treasurer of the United States: Conrad N. Jordan, of New York, to be assistant treasurer of the United States at New York city; L. A. Pradt, of Wisconsin, to be assistant attorney general.

DONE BY THE PHILIPPINE REBELS.

Devilish Atrocity Committed on Twenty five Monks Who Were Loyal.

Vancouver, B. C., June 9.-Further interviews with officers of the steamer Hupeh, now in port, elicit the fact that twenty-five Catholic monks were roasted by the rebels in the Philippine islands, and not by Spanish troops, as previously reported. The information was furnished by a prominent resident of Ho-Ho, in the group of islands, and corroborated by a foreign consul.

The monks, being loyal, had betrayed the rebels to the Spaniards. The customary mode of roasting sucking pigs in the island is by thrusting a bamboo through the pig and then fastening it to an iron and roasting it over a slow fire. This was done to the monks, the bamboo being thrust through them while they were alive.

Thug Work in Michigan.

Niles, Mich., June 9.—Edward Anneck, a wealthy farmer of this county, residing near Sodus, was terribly assaulted by two unknown highwaymen near Indian lake. He was returning home from the lake when he was attacked. He was terribly battered and his face disfigured. His body was dragged into an adjoining wood, where it was found late next day, A small sum of money and his gold watch were taken. He has not yet recovered consciousness and his wounds
